

Beechcraft King Air B-200

The Beechcraft King Air B-200 is a twin engine turbo-prop aircraft that is often used for Civilian (Corporate), MedEvac and Military missions. This aircraft accommodates seven passengers and two pilots.

Aircraft Specs:

Seating: Up to 9 people: 2 Front, 7 Back
One main cabin door drops down and one exit door.

Paint Scheme:

Ext: White matte finish with red/blue stripes

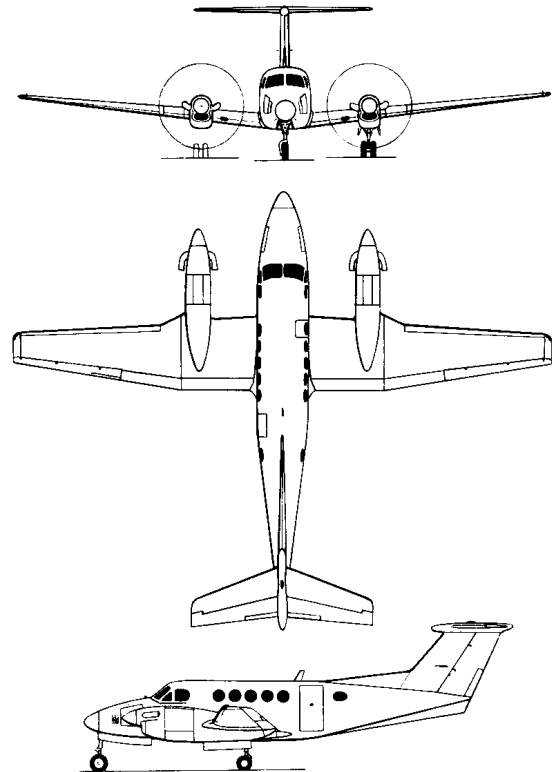

Int: Light & dark gray wall paneling with gray seat covers

Airframe: Cockpit panel is analog gauges. Some gauges are controlled by operator.

Note: Fuselage is mounted to a steel base, the cockpit and forward panel is wild. The cabin has two wild panels

King Air 200 (B200) fuselage shown with engine nacelle.

Fuselage Dimensions

L: 379"

W: 77" at base

H: 105"

Weight: 6,500lbs w/ base
(all is approx)

B200 with two digital displays (Apple iPads) and analog gauges plus two static displays (backlit)

Beechcraft King Air B-200

Shown on a steel frame for moving on stage and on motion platform.

Shown with cockpit detached (wild) and cabin door dropped down.

Beechcraft King Air B-200

Shown with wild exterior wall panel removed. Both left and right are wild.

Beechcraft King Air B-200

Beechcraft King Air B-200

Shown placed on airbags to simulate flight / turbulence inflight. (Airbags not included)

Shown with front wind-screen structure and panel removed (wild) for up-close angles.